

F-2014-00177 - Couples that have selected a defective embryo for implantation

26 June 2014

Summary of request

The Authority was asked for the number of couples that have selected an embryo for implantation that has been found to be defective.

HFEA response

The HFEA does not hold the information requested as information is only collected concerning embryos that are not transferred due to a positive genetic test.
